“ Heather and I always called each other brat. Mom loved it and we kept it up after moms passing in 2015. Doing this, Heather helped me more than she knew. I can just picture her picking on mom again and it makes me smile. Love, hugs and prayers to you all.

“ Judy and I were blessed to know and love Heather since she was 18. We met her on our first mission trip to New Covenant Baptist Church in Rock Cave. She was "Brother Clyde" McCants' indispensable helper and trouble shooter. Heather rode shotgun with me year after year guiding me on the winding roads that were unfamiliar to me, picking up loads of kids for Vacation Bible School. Our friendship continue to the very end, though via letters, phone calls, and Facebook. Judy had a liver transplant just about a year before Heather had her FIRST kidney transplant. The three of us remained spiritually close as prayer partners and dear friends right up to Heather's final valiant struggle. She's with her Lord now and singing and playing the guitar the way she always aspired to. We're thankful for the close circle of friends and family who have ministered to and showed love to her while distance prevented us. We will miss Heather, but treasure a storehouse of fond memories.
