“ Jim was an unforgettable man. At an early age of 13, I came to know a man that I will always hold in the highest regards. From fishing rods to guns, his passion is that of mine. I will remember you well my dear old friend calling for your beagles, especially Fat pup and Tuna at the end of a briar and brush filled day chasing rabbits. Everytime I hear the bellows of a beagle chasing a rabbit, I will fondly think of you, my friend !

“ I will forever remember going fishing with Jim and my Dad when I was little. He LOVED to poke me in the back of the legs with a fishing pole as we walked down the bank to the river, and yell "SNAKE!". He was an ornery one, but also one of the 'good ones'. He will be missed by many.

“ Jim was a friend for at least 35 years, fixed my fishing rods, sighted my gun in, sold & traded ammo and told me & others hundreds of fishing & hunting stories. It usually took awhile but a haircut was included, all for the same price. Most of us just stopped in sometimes to "shoot the breeze" and yuck it up with a very funny and entertaining guy. RIP Jim, one of a kind for sure! Thoughts & prayers for Ada, Matt & family. Sti-Ute, Jim Marsh
